for every single one. Last year the incentive was a cash bonus, so this year I got to take my husband on his first-ever overseas trip. How amazing is that!

I've also grown so much as a person through various conferences and training events. I now live by the compound effect, which teaches that small steps taken consistently and daily explode into really big achievements over time. I now know I can achieve whatever I set my mind to.

I love what I do and am very proud of the company I work for. There is so much support to help you succeed. To anyone thinking about joining Sh'Zen, I would say "what do you have to lose?". I am so grateful that I said YES to the many opportunities that Sh'Zen has given me – and can give to you too.

I was introduced to the Sh'Zen Overnight Balm by my beauty therapist. I could not believe what a difference the product made to my heels, and that's when my incredible journey with Sh'Zen began. I signed up as a consultant and I have never looked back!

Earning an income to support my family while working from home is a privilege and a huge blessing. I love what I do and I'm passionate about the products. They get better year after year, with new launches that really make a difference to my skin.

Most of all, though, I am passionate about empowering other women. It gives me incredible joy to share the business opportunity and watch other women grow as I have over the past 12 years.

The opportunities have been awesome. I've been on 11 overseas incentive trips with my business. I literally have travelled the world. It's been a five-star experience that I would never have been able to afford otherwise. I have been grateful
